Packing houses are being prepared for opening the latter part of this month and the first of May to take care of the tomato crop.

Beville & Oldham have bought from B. Robinson a house near the crossing of the F. E. C. railroad and the Canal Point-Pahokee road and are erecting a new packing house.

L. L. Stuckey, who has 200 acres of tomatoes, will pack his fruit in his own house and he said yesterday that he expected to open the house April 26.

same locality that his brother, the late Tom Cranford, operated in other years.

Mr. Stucky estimates the tomatoes in the Pahokee district as amounting to about 1,400 acres, of which 1,200 are in the former Pelican Lake bottom and on the sides. One hundred acres of the Stucky tomatoes are in the old lake bottom and 10 acres on the side. The old lake bottom tomatoes will be packed at the house at Pelican Lake switch.

C. S. Moore has leased the Shackford and Davis packing house at Sand Cut siding, north of Canal

Point, and will open it a week from Monday. The Hicks packing house at Sand Cut was taken over last year by the Lake Shore Supply Company and converted into a supply store. Acreage of tomatoes north of Canal Point is estimated as between 500 and 600, of which W. R. Shackford has 150 acres. W. L. Brandon and tenants 30, and George Fritchey 40. Claude Santoe and others at "Tynerville" have fields of varying size.

the East Beach and Canal Point, was taken into consideration by the League at the regular meeting of managers and directors in the office of Mayor John R. Beacham, Wednesday night in West Palm Beach. The new team from Delray Beach also was accepted in the County League.

The application on behalf of East Beach was taken after several meetings herein in which sugar cane players were joined.

Charles Turner of Delray Beach, J. Doolittle of East Beach and Lester McGeehee of Jupiter were named to the board of directors. The present set-up of the league will be to have four teams from West Palm Beach—Matheson News Company, Parker Roofing Company, Sutcliffe Electric and the Alpha Sigma Club. The latter two are on a fraternal and fellowship basis outside which will include the two new entries and Browns Farm and Jupiter.

The Executive rule requiring players joining the league after May 15 have been a resident of the county for three months, was adopted and L. A. Paine was named to draw up a schedule and present at the next meeting Tuesday night. Play will start May 3.

Hoesel, the manager, and Gus Root, the assistant manager, of the Mayaca Company property, who will set the trees on their own tracts, independent of the Mayaca Company groves. The trees are of the ridge on which they have their dwellings, and the area on which the 1,000 trees are to be set is 15 acres. The trees were procured from the Walton nurseries at Homestead and are West Indian hybrids and Guatemalan and are intended for production of fruit between the California and the West Indian.

COUNTY DOES WORK IN ALL SECTIONS

Maintenance by State Spares County Funds For Generous Expenditure

Authority was granted County Engineer J. M. Boyd Monday afternoon to close the Dixie highway spillway bridge over West Palm Beach canal for three or four days for repairs, the Palm Beach Post says in its report of a meeting of the county commissioners. The bridge is expected to be closed within a day or two and traffic will be routed over the federal highway bridge a block away.

Although traffic over the spillway bridge has not decreased to any appreciable extent since the federal highway bridge was opened, it is necessary to close the county bridge for repairs to strangers on the structure.

Authority to construct a bridge tender's house at Boca Hato by county forces at a cost not to exceed $1,000 was granted the engineer. The present house was damaged by the 1928 hurricane.

Construction and the laying of foundations for a 60-foot concrete bridge at the courthouse has begun and should be completed by the end of the month, the engineer said. The bridge is to be completed in two weeks, Mr. Boyd reported.

With the assuming by the State Road Department of maintenance on the Ocean Boulevard from Boca Raton to Delray Beach, Mr. Boyd reported he had withdrawn county forces from the road taken over.

An average of approximately 300 automobiles have passed over the county highway daily since Mr. Boyd assumed the duties of county engineer. The census is being continued.

CO-OPS REALLY WORK IN CALIFORNIA

An instance of how "co-operative marketing associations" work was furnished by W. L. Brandon of Canal Point, who has handed in a copy of the Clyde Rogers newspaper printed in the town he used to live in, in which is a letter from Henry R. H. of former Kansas man who now lives in California. In his letter Mr. H. says:

"I am a farmer and my brother-in-law, in fact, picked 625 boxes of peaches and sent them to the packing house, rather they were picked by the packing house and sent out by the packing house. Last week he got the peaches and a citizen called after picking, hauling, grading, packing and marketing had been paid for, what do you suppose he got for his fruit? Well, he received notice that he would have to send in a check for $22.25 in full, paying the expense. In other words, after paying taxes on the land, paying for irrigation, cultivation, fertilization, pruning and spraying, it still cost him $22.25 to give away these 625 boxes of lemons. At that rate, a man has to raise a whole lot of lemons before he is able to support a family and contribute very much to the community. The Co-op really fund. Other neighbors had the same, the amount of their short-crop, depending on the number of boxes of fruit they had produced. We read a lot about how co-operative marketing is going to solve all the problems. Well, doesn't. While it is solving one it creates another. After you have been in a while you discover that the salaried man who produces nothing and who is supposed to think out ways and means to help the real producer, does his best thinking from the angle of the salaried man, not from the viewpoint of the man in gum boots and overalls along the irrigation furrow. He figures out how the association can be made to furnish another job, another salary, and then the producer is lucky if a few dollars are left after the overhead has been taken care of. I have in mind one California co-operative whose president in Los Angeles drew a $20,000 salary; the man who routes the cars receives $7,500; the business is supposed to be in the hands of a salaried man at the head of each and every salaried manager under him; this county draws $625 monthly; the local manager of our packing house receives $100 monthly and then there is a bookkeeper, foreman, floor manager, field superintendent, besides the pickers, graders, washers and packers, and in the east a score or more high-powered salaried men in Pullman cars and stopping in the best hotels. Just imagine what a time the dollars have finding their way to the pockets of the man who produces the fruit. And that is co-operative marketing perfected."

The Glades And Its Affairs

Hardie county, of which Wauchois is the county seat, is a great strawberry producing section. "Strawberry shipments, valued at the four million mark this week, as the final shipment went out from Hardie county," says the newspaper.

Four million plants. A plant is the eighth part of a peck and there are four pecks to a bushel. Some are packed in barrel containers, not in plant. Figure how many bushels four million plants would come to.

Twenty-nine gold cars of beans were shipped from the upper Glades week before last. (Figures for the current week are not yet in hand.) Each car contained at least 600 bushel beans. That's 17,400 bushels, or 69,600 bushels. Multiplied by 8 the sum is 556,800 bushels of beans, more than half a million. In some months we ship more beans in a month than Wauchois ships strawberries in a season. And sometimes we ship more than Wauchois ships strawberries in a season.

Next season will probably be the best the upper Glades has ever had for the business men of the region if not for the growers. But the question that is pending before the House as we say in the legislature is "What are the plans going to do to 'get by this summer'?" A part answer to the question is to go to the Kilgore Seed Company store at Palatka or Belle Glade and buy a pressure cooker and a can scaler. Mr. Miller, the manager of the Palatka store, or Mr. Brown, the manager of the Belle Glade store, will be glad to tell you how to use them and will be glad to give you more information than Mrs. Barras, the home demonstration agent.

It is possible and likely that next season will be a better one for business men than for growers. Over 20,000 acres were in cultivation in this present season; counting the interplanting and double-cropping it amounted to 25,000 acres, and with this much land planted and with fairly good growing weather next season, the production will be heavy—so heavy that prices will be so low that farmers as individuals will not make much money. But with the big acreage and heavy production, such money as there is will circulate rapidly and everybody will get a whack at it.

There will be a market for good beans—large is always a market for good stuff, but large quantities of poor beans will be left unsold or will not sell at a profit. Everybody knows that lots of tomatoes have to be thrown away; it will be the same way with beans. Growers are sold under labels; beans will have to be sold the same way.

C. P. GIRL SCOTTS
The Girl Scouts weekly meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock Wednesday, April 8, by Mrs. John Politz, captain. The main subject was signals. YOUNG SUMMER DIES AFTER CAR INJURY

Dennis Sumner of Canal Point, a young man, died Tuesday in a hospital in West Palm Beach as a result of injuries received two weeks before when his automobile hit the railing of the Belle Glade-Palmetto road at section 5, between Curdwell and Runyan and went into the ditch. Sumner was returning to a dance at Belle Glade that some of his folks were giving on the night the fall opened. The body was sent to Duke City, Sumner's father home for burial, after being prepared for shipment at an undertaking establishment in Lake Wales.

THE COUNTY AGENT IS ONLY A HUMAN WHO TRIES TO HELP

Since county agent work was established by the United States Department of Agriculture and various co-operating agencies in the states in 1914, some of us farmers have come to look on the county agent as a very present help in time of trouble. (And that's practically all the time.) Others, perhaps, have been fretted because the agent has not done everything we thought he should have accomplished. However, we must admit that most of the agents have been honestly trying to better the agriculture of their counties.

A Tennessee farmer, Albert Hines, so clearly summed up "the county agent" in a recent issue of Southern Agriculturist that his opinions and observations are worthy of repetition here: "Our County Agent—'Is simply our hired man, not to hear some folks talk for him but to do his boss. 'Is not a magician, he cannot, by waving a wand, raise the price of corn."

"Does not claim to know it all. 'Has no cure-all for farm ills. 'Is always on the job. 'Cannot make any farmer prosperous overnight. 'Cannot help if you do not give him a chance.

"Does not come on the farm to tell you what to do, but to discuss the problems. 'Wears a collar and tie, because it is standard equipment. 'Would be lost in a crowd, hickory shirt and brogan shoes."

"Has an orderly, well-arranged office where the farmers can meet and discuss their problems. 'Is a human being. After doing his best he does not like to be criticised. 'Has his moving picture machine about the county, showing us interesting pictures of farm life. 'Promotes boys' and girls' clubs, and thus keeps them interested in farming. This alone is worth what he costs us.

"Has to have a salary, else how could he live. 'Cannot give lectures that will keep the weeds down, or the fence up. 'Believe in a better agriculture."

PHILCO IS POPULAR RADIO IN GLADES

Better Service Garage at Belle Glade becomes an Agency for It

The Better Service Garage at Belle Glade, run by Redel & Son, has taken over an agency for the Philco radio, which seems to be the set most popular in the upper Glades. The Philco comes in all of the models and has the tone control that is the latest feature in radio receiving sets.

Extensive holdings of the Florida Power & Light Company lines have made it possible for more people to own a radio set than when owners had to depend on batteries. In this section it is not fashionable any more to have a high-priced automobile, but all know one another and we know that most people cannot really afford anything better than a Chevrolet or a Ford, but the cost of a radio is so small that most everybody is expected to have a receiving set nowadays.

Three Havana, Cuba, stations were to be heard Sunday about noon—near the 730 kilocycle point, another around 1070 and the other around 1140.

A Canal Point man who already has a radio bought a second set and placed it in an apartment he lets out, with the idea that as he fulfills the furnishings of the apartment it would hold a good renter a little longer or make the apartment more rentable when the present tenant vacates.

If the owner of a radio lets it alone he is not likely to have any trouble with it; but if by any chance something does go wrong, the proper servicing can be had at once for Old Bob at the Canal Point garage makes the servicing of radios a regular part of his business.

proper rearrangement of the system of taxation.

3. Can a system be devised to save and protect the true interest of these three divisions? In his opinion it can be easily done.

How? (a) By having the water from the lake and upper Everglades, which was not allowed to back up on the upper Glades, nor of swamping the lower, but allowed to pursue the old course to the southwest and protect possibly the land owners of the central Glades, by spreading out as far as by nature they can.

4. Let the engineers determine the point in all these canals where to hold back the lake and upper Glades waters in such manner as to not allow it to run in on the lower Glades and allow it to remove westerly banks in each of the canals at certain points to spread out toward the southwest over the central lands that cannot be developed now.

The lock is far the purpose of not merely preventing water to the lower Everglades, but also to preserve navigation in any canal where desirable, for any of these canals may be opened for boats to pass without serious injury in that short time to lower Everglades development, is very brief.

Biased down, this means, the system proposed for protection of the water and lower Glades will be used to make fire protection be developed at this time, and which it is not wise to develop so the about of possible.

The system will be inexpensive. Roads may be freely built along the canal banks, and the points where the water is allowed to escape into the central Glades bridges or trestles must be provided. It preserves navigation features. Both the developing lands of upper and lower Glades are made safe as possible still more run-off may be provided through main canals to the ocean. It helps to preserve from fire.

My dear Mr. Sharp, I believe this solution is the cheapest, the quickest and surest to give all people timely protection who are now farming in either upper or lower Glades.

I am anxious as we all are down here to know what the people of the upper Everglades, after they have studied this and understood it, think of it as a remedy that will protect all; and I am anxious to know your own reaction.

U. S. BUREAU TELLS OF BEANS AND PEAS

"The 21,000 acres estimated for the spring crop of beans must necessarily include all beans harvested since the first of January, 1931. This takes in about 4,000 acres in Broward county which is about through picking and 4,500 acres in Palm Beach county about picked. There will be an additional 2,500 acres in Palm Beach county for harvest in April and May which were sown after the first of March 15th. Averages in Central Florida show a cut of about 2,000 acres from last year. Yields on the average harvested up to this time have been light. Broward county averaged from 25 to 40 bushels during the winter and Palm Beach county was not much better. The later plantings on the Lake, however, will have better yields provided spring rains do not drown them out, or Anthracnose comes in like it did last year. The summer county plantings are not in the best condition and will not average over 50 or 60 bushels. Carrot movement was begun about April 15. Beans and Alachua counties, and farther north, yields are expected to be good."

Of Texas the report says: "Yields in the Lower Valley will average considerably below normal because much of the remaining acreage was severely affected by frost. Carrot shipments started from the Valley the third week in March and should continue well into May due to the fact that a part of the acreage was not planted until after the frost. At no point will the movement be heavy. Some of the counties outside of the Lower Valley suffered less of beans from the early March frost, but most fields were replanted and in only a few counties are stands below normal. Shipments from these counties will be made during the last half of April, May and early June."

"Of English peas the report says: "The spring crop in the Imperial Valley will have finished harvest by the end of the week. Yields have been light and the quality has not been exceptional for the Valley as a whole. Small shipments of peas have been made since the spring crop in the Coachella Valley, Orange, San Diego, and Los Angeles counties are at the present time picking peas for local markets."
